

Outer track represents the proportion of species carrying the most common nucleotide at a particular alignment position